

Serco Education are one of the leading approved providers of The National Award for SEN Co-ordination

This programme is mandatory for SENCOs newly appointed to the role from 2009 and is also highly relevant for experienced SENCOs and a valuable option for CPD, resulting in a PGCE and 60 credits towards a Master's degree. Our popular and successful SENCO Award, accredited by the University of Hertfordshire, is a 10-month course, covering 2 x 30 credit modules, which are:

Module 1 - The SENCO: Policy into Practice	The SENCO: Leading on Inclusion
This module includes units about: <ul style="list-style-type: none">➤ Perspectives on SEN and Inclusion.➤ Conflicts and values in SEN, including language, terminology.➤ Political context (legislation, how this links to their local authority such as the Local offer).➤ Consultation and participation (active participation, inclusion or integration).➤ Identifying needs and barriers to learning (including some impairment specific material).➤ Access, ability and the impact of labels, achievement and attainment within the current system.	This module includes units about: <ul style="list-style-type: none">➤ Leadership and management in special and inclusive education.➤ Implications for whole school development of inclusion (where are you on this journey?).➤ The role of leadership, the SMT, staff and governors (ethos, future steps etc.).➤ The role of support staff; pupil voice and parental participation.➤ Improving outcomes and school wide developments (including preparation for inspection).➤ Pastoral provision and the whole school community, including exclusions.➤ Multi-agency working and special and alternative provision within inclusion.➤ Leading change and supporting professional development.

Each module starts with a meeting which can be delivered fully online or face-to-face, followed by online learning. Each module is assessed by 2 x written assignments (word count totaling 4500).

Our local programme costs £1459 + VAT per student (fully online) or £1649 + VAT per student (blended). We run 3 intakes a year in February, May and October.

If you are interested in offering a SENCO Award group exclusively to your MAT or local area, please contact Shona Kelly:

E: sencoaward@serco.com, T: 01452 341829